- itravel2000, a Travelzest Company, seeing consumers' interest in winter bookings strengthen

Consumers are in a much sunnier mood, or at least they are much more in the mood for winter sunshine this autumn with itravel2000 seeing consumers' interest for winter all-inclusive vacations improving

Indications show that consumers want to book early to secure high demand destinations and take advantage of special offers. itravel2000's Price Drop Protection gives travellers the confidence to book now. Price Drop Protection is offered on itravel2000.com's pre-packaged vacations and select pre-packaged cruises.

With Mexico back in their traditional #1 position following last year's H1N1 scare, other top destinations are aggressively pricing vacations to hold onto the gains they enjoyed last year. Aggressive pricing in one destination forces prices down in the destinations that are competing for winter vacationers like the Dominican Republic and even more premium destinations like Jamaica.

If the price of your vacation drops, let us know at 31 days before your departure and we'll send you a cheque for the amount of the price drop up to $300 per adult less a $25 transaction fee.

Jonathan Carroll, Group CEO of the Travelzest Group, commented:

"It's shaping up to be another fantastic year for Canadian sun-seekers as they enjoy the benefit of fierce competition – last minute pricing on winter vacations has arrived in the early Fall. We want our customers to know they can be confident when booking with us and that they will always get the lowest price for their vacation at itravel2000."
